

WINTER SPORTS AT NORWICH

Annual Carnival Was Pronounced to Be Great Success

SKI AND TOBOGGAN JUMPING PUT ON

Indoor Athletics, Dances, Theatre and Eating Parties

Northfield, Feb. 15.—The annual winter carnival held at Norwich university Feb. 10, 11 and 12 was considered a success by everyone who attended. The first day of the carnival was celebrated by the freshman hop held in the armory hall. Music was furnished by Carroll's orchestra of Barre. The hall was decorated in maroon and gold, Norwich colors, and the class colors, purple and gold. Each fraternity had its booth decorated in original style around the sides of the hall. The blue dress uniform and the evening gowns, with the subdued light from the center of the hall, made a very pleasing effect.

Friday morning an exhibition polo game was held at the new riding hall between picked teams from the junior and senior classes. Four periods of ten minutes each with two fairly evenly matched teams (blue and red) gave a victory to the blue team with a score of 5 to 3. The polo exhibition was the first that has been given in the new hall and demonstrated that a strong team can be selected from such material to represent Norwich in the games scheduled with several of the New England colleges. A fishy game was put up by White and Switzer for the blues, while Zwart was the mainstay for the red team.

In the afternoon ski and toboggan jumping took place on the hill just east of the university, which affords a toboggan slide of nearly a quarter of a mile and a ski course of the same length. Because of the snowstorm the course was not in the best condition, but after considerable use it made fairly good sliding. Holder, Walker, H. E. and Austin won first, second and third places, respectively, in the ski jumping contest. Northrop, Styles, and Steele with their crews won the places in the toboggan jumping. Due to the sticky condition of the snow, no record jumps were made, and it was rather difficult to keep in the track.

The toboggan jumping was exciting, as frequently the parties jumped the sides of the course, and made their own paths to the bottom of the hill, covering themselves with the high snow until they could not be seen in the snow spray which went all over them. Northrop made a jump of 40 feet, but on previous occasions, with the snow in better condition, jumps of 80-90 feet have been made with toboggans over the same course.

The evening was enjoyed by open house at the fraternity house parties.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizziness, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing at any time.—Adv.

which lasted well into the next day. For those who were more athletically inclined there were attractions at the skating rink on the river. Saturday morning dawned clear and bright—ideal conditions for any kind of winter sport. The senior class put on a fancy mounted drill at the riding hall, after which an exhibition jumping contest was given by picked horsemen from the same class. The ribbon winners were Morgan, blue ribbon; Carroll, red ribbon; and Walters, yellow ribbon. They gave a fine exhibition of horsemanship, and the jumps were so well made in several cases that ties had to be settled by a new attempt at the course. The hurdles consisted of a broad jump of fence rails, a picket fence, a hedge, and finally, a stone wall.

In the afternoon a basketball game was staged at the armory hall with Albany Law school. Between the halves exhibition bouts were given in wrestling by Merchant, '23, and Hoyt, '21, in the 145-pound class; also Sparrow, '22, and Flanders, '22, put on a bout in catch-as-catch-can style. In the first bout there was no decision, as the men were very evenly matched as to science. In the second bout in the heavyweight class, Flanders, who outweighed Sparrow by 25 pounds, was given the decision; however, Sparrow showed more skill and agility.

The Savoy theatre was engaged for the evening, and a feature picture was shown along with the regular show, after which vaudeville stunts were given by several men of the corps. "Chaplin" Northrop showed his audience some clever footwork, "Ike" Whelton introduced several new song hits, and finally "Sugar" Kane and "Bentwell" Waite gave a comedy sketch entitled "The Guest," which was very amusing, and the acting exceptionally good. Music was furnished by the Theta Chi orchestra. To complete the festivities a dance was held at the armory hall with Brown's orchestra of Burlington, assisted by the Theta Chi orchestra. Several sleighride parties were held to nearby towns, where refreshments were had, and usually wound up with a dance, which completed the program for the 1921 winter carnival, the success of which is due to the management by the sophomore class.

Filial Consideration. Two broad rolls were left on the plate, and as it was passed Richard took the large one.

A troubled conscience immediately caused him to look at his mother, whose stern countenance spoke plainer than words.

"Well, mama," he said, although not a word had been spoken, "I didn't want you to be the hog."—Indianapolis News.

Just a Stayer. The man who stood next to us with his small son outside the llama's cage was having much difficulty. He was being beset with the inquiry, "What does the llama do?" He acted like a man who had been in the zoo a good many hours, for there was weariness in his voice when he replied, "O, I guess he just sort of hangs around."—New York Tribune.

HAYS CONFERS WITH HARDING

In Final Pre-Inauguration Negotiation on Make-Up of Cabinet

HAYS HIMSELF LIKELY TO BE APPOINTED

And He Wields Considerable Influence in Determining Other Choices

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 15.—President-elect Harding and his campaign manager, Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, got down to brass tacks today in a final pre-inauguration conference on the make-up of the cabinet and the first steps of the coming administration.

Mr. Hays generally is considered by those close to the president-elect as likely choice for a place in the cabinet and his position as the titular head of the party was conceded as giving him an influential voice in the determination of many questions involving both patronage and policies. The conference was expected to last the greater part of the day. Although no definite announcement was made it was indicated that the most serious problems ahead of the new administration were under consideration.

CAPE COD DOOMED IF MAN DOESN'T ACT

Wellesley College Professor Declares That Great Breakwater Ought to Extend Along the Ocean Side.

Wellesley, Mass., Feb. 15.—Early consideration of plans for a great breakwater to extend along the ocean side of Cape Cod south of Highland light was urged today as the salvation of the long peninsula by Miss Elizabeth F. Fisher, professor of geology at Wellesley college. Discussing the problem before a group of alumnae, Miss Fisher declared that if artificial obstructions were not placed in the way of the ocean's thrusts Cape Cod was doomed.

Pointing out that the ocean side of the cape once presented a series of irregular headlands, Miss Fisher said that the upward current along the shore from Chatham, together with the direct pounding of the Atlantic, was making rapid strides, in a geological way, toward wearing the land back to a point which eventually would mean the inevitable rush of the ocean into the waters of Cape Cod bay. The northern end of the cape would thus be cut off. Provincetown would become little more than a menace to navigation, as a shifting sand deposited island in deep water, gradually moving northwest until it disappeared.

Miss Fisher was unwilling to prophesy just how long it would take the ocean to complete its work. "It all depends," she said, "on the degree of intensity of future storms. When the arm of the cape does go, however, it is certain to go quickly. A strong sea wall such as the wall at Galveston, Texas, is the cape's only hope."
